DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-19 and 31- 35, drawn to a composition comprising two fusion polypeptides, the first having a transduction domain fused to a heterologous polypeptide, the second having a transduction domain fused to a fusogenic polypeptide, and kits and articles of manufacture thereof and just a fusion polypeptide comprising a protein transduction domain and a fusogenic domain.

N.B. Applicants are further required to elect a single protein from claims 12 (the heterologous proteins), 13 and 34 (the fusogenic proteins). Applicants should note this is NOT an election of species as each protein possesses its own unique structure and function and thus is a separate patentable invention.

Group II, claim(s) 20-30, drawn to a method of introducing a heterologous polypeptide in to a target cell by contacting the cell with a composition comprising two fusion polypeptides, the first having a transduction domain fused to a heterologous polypeptide, the second having a transduction domain fused to a fusogenic polypeptide.

N.B. Applicants are further required to elect a single protein from claim 29 (the fusogenic proteins). Applicants should note this is NOT an election of species as each protein possesses its own unique structure and function and thus is a separate patentable invention.

The inventions listed as Groups I-II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: The claims are drawn to fusion polypeptides that have a transduction domain fused to fusogenic polypeptide wherein the preferred embodiments of a fusogenic polypeptide are described in dependent claims 13, 29 and 34; and the preferred embodiments for the transduction domain are sequences from TAT, VP22 or Antp. Barka et al. (J. of Histochem. & Cytochem., 2000, 48(11):1453-1460) teach a fusion polypeptide of TAT-HA- β -galactosidase, where Tat is the 11 amino acid leader sequence of amino acids 47-57, HA is hemagglutinin, and β -galactosidase is a marker protein. Since the claim limitation of claim 31 is open, the teaching of Barka et al. anticipate the claim.

Therefore, the technical feature linking the inventions of Groups I and II does not constitute a special technical feature as defined by PCT Rule 13.2, as it does not differentiate the claimed subject matter as a whole over the prior art. Since according to PCT Rule 13.2 the presence of such a common or corresponding special technical feature is an absolute prerequisite for unity to be established, and given that there does not appear to be any other technical feature common to the claimed subject matter as a whole which might be able to fulfill this role, the currently claimed subject matter lacks unity of invention according to PCT Rule 13.1.

2. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.
